Re: John Lee Smith, John Lee Smith for U.S. Congress, Committee to Elect John Lee Smith 2010 and Friends of John Lee Smith

Dear Ms. Duncan:

Pursuant to 2 USC § 437g(a)(1) and 11 CFR § 111.4, please accept this letter as a Complaint against John Lee Smith ("Smith") and Committee to Elect John Lee Smith 2010, John Lee Smith for U.S. Congress and Friends of John Lee Smith (collectively, the "Committees") for operating in violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended (the "Act"), and Federal Election Commission ("FEC" or "Commission") regulations, and more specifically, for failing to register with the Commission as required by 11 CFR § 101.1(a) and 11 CFR § 102.1(a) and for violation of the disclaimer requirements for television communications authorized by candidates set forth in 11 CFR § 110.11(c)(3)(iii).

I. Facts

John Lee Smith is campaigning for election to the U.S. House of Representatives for Indiana's 8th Congressional District. Smith has a Facebook page entitled "John Lee Smith for U.S. Congress" Located at <http://www.facebook.com/#!/pages/John-Lee-Smith-for-US-Congress/320315547978?ref=ts>. See Attachment 1. On February 24, 2010, Smith posted an article on Facebook entitled, "Why I am Running for U.S. House of Representatives For the People in Indiana's 8th Congressional District." See Attachment 2. Additionally, according to a Facebook post on March 2, 2010, Smith announced the launching of his new website, located at www.johnleesmith2010.com ("the Website"). See Attachment 3. The Website contains the statement "Running for United States Congress Indiana's 8th District" under a photograph of Smith and his family. See Attachment 4. "The disclaimer on the Website reads "paid for by Committee to Elect John Lee Smith 2010." See Attachment 4. Neither John Lee Smith for U.S. Congress nor the Committee to Elect John Lee Smith has filed a FEC Form 2 Statement of Organization with the Commission. Similarly, Smith has failed to file a FEC Form 1 Statement of Candidacy with the FEC.

According to a March 19, 2010, Facebook post on the "John Lee Smith for U.S. Congress" Facebook page, Smith announced the March 20, 2010, release of his campaign's first commercial ("the Advertisement"), planned to air on both local and cable broadcasts. See Attachment 5. According to forms obtained from WFIE in Evansville, IN, and WTHI in Terre Haute, IN, $10,695 in media time was booked for the

10044289669

Advertisement. See Attachment 6. The text of the Advertisement is included herein as Attachment 7. The disclaimer at the end of the Advertisement states "paid for and approved by Friends of John Lee Smith." Friends of John Lee Smith has not filed an FEC Form 2 Statement of Organization with the Commission.

Smith for Congress, a campaign committee for John Lee Smith, a candidate for Indiana's 7th Congressional District, did file an FEC Form 3 Report of Receipts and Disbursements with the Commission in 1996. This committee was administratively terminated by the Commission on June 29, 2000. It is unknown if the candidate involved in this committee is the same John Lee Smith that is the subject of this Complaint.

II. Relevant Law

Registration and Reporting Requirements

An individual becomes a candidate and triggers registration and reporting responsibilities under the Act when campaign activity exceeds $5,000 in either contributions or expenditures. 2 USC § 431(2). A candidate must file a Statement of Candidacy (FEC Form 2) within 15 days of becoming a candidate. 2 USC § 432(e)(1).

The regulations permit an individual who has not decided to run for office to raise funds to "test the waters" and explore the viability of becoming a candidate. 11 CFR § 100.72, 11 CFR § 100.131. An individual solely engaging in testing the waters activities does not have to register or report as a candidate, even if the individual raises or spends more than $5,000 on these activities. Testing the waters activities include conducting a poll, making telephone calls and traveling, but only if undertaken to determine whether an individual should become a candidate. 11 CFR § 100.72, 11 CFR § 100.131.

However, once an individual engages in campaign activity, if he or she has raised or spent more than $5,000, the individual must register as a candidate with the FEC. Campaign activities include raising funds in excess of what could reasonably be expected to be used for exploratory activities, undertaking activities designed to amass campaign funds that would be spent after he or she becomes a candidate, or making statements that refer to the individual as a candidate. 11 CFR § 100.72. In addition, if the name of an individual's testing the waters committee indicates that the candidate has already decided to run for congress, this is also considered campaign activity. See Advisory Opinion 1981-32.

Television Advertising Disclaimer Requirements

A public communication is defined, in part, as a "communication by means of any broadcast, cable or satellite communication...or any other form of general public political advertising." 11 CFR § 100.26. All public communications made by a political committee are required to include a disclaimer. 11 CFR §110.11(a). Radio and television commercials authorized by candidates are subject to specific disclaimer requirements not applicable to advertisements using other forms of media. 11 CFR §110.11(c)(3).

Advertisements authorized or paid for by a candidate or the authorized committee of a candidate transmitted by television or through any broadcast, cable, or satellite transmission must include both an oral statement that identifies the candidate and states that he or she has approved the communication, as well as a similar written statement, containing the same information, that appears in clearly readable writing at the end of the television communication. 11 CFR 110.11(c)(3)(ii), (iii).

Commission regulations provide two ways in which a candidate may make the required oral statement. It may be made "[t]hrough an unobscured, full-screen view of himself or herself making the statement." 11 CFR 110.11(c)(3)(ii)(A). Alternatively, it may be made "[t]hrough a voice-over by himself or herself, accompanied by a clearly identifiable photographic or similar image of the candidate. A photographic or similar image of the candidate shall be considered clearly identified if it is at least eighty (80) percent of the vertical screen height." 11 CFR 110.11(c)(3)(ii)(B).

III. Legal Analysis

Smith is actively campaigning for federal office and engaging in campaign activity. The Advertisement and the Website plainly advocate for Smith's election to Congress. The Website states that Smith is "Running for United States Congress" and the Advertisement makes use of a graphic stating "John Lee Smith for Congress 2010." Furthermore, Smith's Facebook page is entitled "John Lee Smith for U.S. Congress."

Smith has crossed the $5,000 threshold for the Commission's registration and reporting requirements. Forms obtained from WFIE in Evansville, IN, and WTHI in Terre Haute, IN, show that $10,695 in media time was booked for the Advertisement, well in excess of the $5,000 registration and reporting threshold. Even so, neither Smith, nor any of the entities named in Smith's Advertisement, on Smith's Facebook page or on the Website have filed with the Commission.

Smith has failed to include the appropriate disclaimer on his Advertisement. The Advertisement certainly qualifies as a public communication. It aired on local and cable broadcasts in the 8th District of Indiana on March 20, 2010. The Advertisement indicates that the communication was paid for by Committee to Elect John Lee Smith 2010. Because the Committee to Elect John Lee Smith is a federal political committee engaging in federal campaign activity, the Advertisement must contain a disclaimer that complies with FEC regulations.

The Advertisement fails to comply with FEC regulations, which require the inclusion of a written statement identifying the candidate and stating that the candidate approved the communication, as well as an oral statement affirming the candidate's payment and approval. While the written statement says that "Friends of John Lee Smith" paid for the Advertisement, the written statement fails to indicate that John Lee Smith approved the communication.

10044280672

The Advertisement also fails to make the required oral statement regarding Smith's payment and approval of the Advertisement. Though the regulations provide two ways for a candidate to convey the required information, neither of these methods were utilized in attempt to fulfill the FEC requirements. Instead, the Advertisement only included a full screen shot of Smith stating "I'm John Smith," with the announcer stating "Paid for and approved by Friends of John Lee Smith."

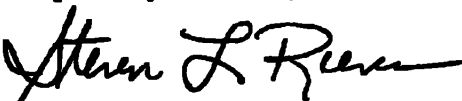

The written and oral disclaimers on the Advertisement fail to comply with FEC regulations. Smith and Friends of John Lee Smith should be cited for its failure to comply with applicable regulations.

IV. Conclusion

Upon information and belief, and based upon the facts relayed herein, John Lee Smith, John Lee Smith for U.S. Congress, Committee to Elect John Lee Smith 2010 and Friends of John Lee Smith have violated the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended, and Federal Election Commission Regulations as described herein. Accordingly, I respectfully request that the Commission conduct an immediate investigation into the violations outlined above and impose the maximum penalty under law.

The foregoing is correct and accurate to the best of my knowledge, information and belief.

Respectfully submitted,

Steven L. Reeves

Why I am Running for U.S. House of Representatives For The People in Indiana's 8th Congressional District

Wednesday, February 24, 2010 at 6:27pm

I am a financial adviser with Edward Jones, a company that did not go out of business, and did not take a single dime in federal bailout money, or any other money from our government. I help individual investors plan for retirement, maintain their lifestyle, and keep their taxes down.

The reason that I decided to enter this race, in addition to wanting to serve the people in this beautiful state of our great nation was conceived in my mind as I began to study the problems in Washington, and how these problems affected my clients - individuals just like you and me.

As I started researching the financial problems facing America, I found myself looking into the last shade of American history - the last shade of Alexander Hamilton, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln, to name a few, to study how they solved the problems of their day.

When I looked into these different periods of American History, a picture began to emerge of how similar our problems are to theirs. These tools have been in the last shade so long, people have forgotten how to use them.

That is why I decided to run for Congress. I am the financial specialist that is uniquely ready to go to work and help craft the legislation that will help all Americans. My education, profession, experience and life research have prepared me to offer solutions that will put our country back on solid financial ground. Nothing fancy. Nothing new. Just solutions that work.

In 1982 I got to meet and spend time with my modern day political hero President Ronald Reagan at his Fox Plane office in California. Here I was, a young man, discussing politics with "The Great Communicator".

He was a very personable yet humble man who had recently changed our country and the world for the better, kept us safe and set standards of prosperity for future generations. We discussed streamlining and ways to make government more efficient, and some of his policies that worked then, and that I believe will work today.

One policy President Reagan discussed with me was The Grace Commission. He directed those serving on this commission to be bold and work like the Swiss banknote, not leaving any stone unturned in their search to root out inefficiency in government. For two years, 161 corporate executives and community leaders had an army of 2,000 volunteers on a waste hunt throughout the federal government. Funded entirely by voluntary contributions of $75 million from the private sector, the search cost taxpayers nothing. The Grace Commission Report was presented to Congress in January 1984. The Report claimed that if its recommendations were followed, $424 billion could be saved in three years, rising to $1.9 billion per year by the year 2005. It estimated that the national debt with these reforms in place would rise to only $2.5 trillion, but with the Congress voting "No" to the reforms, the debt actually reached $5.6 trillion in 2008!

The Report said that one-third of all income taxes are consumed by waste and inefficiency in the Federal Government, and another one-third escapes collection due to the underground economy. "With two-thirds of everyone's personal income taxes wasted or not collected, 200 percent of what is collected is absorbed solely by interest on the Federal debt and by Federal Government contributions to transfer payments. In other words, all individual income tax revenues are gone before one nickel is spent on the services which taxpayers expect from their Government."

Congress did NOT act on the recommendations.

I believe strongly in the proven conservative principles held by Ronald Reagan that are distinctly American, those of less government, less taxes, less waste, a strong military and a commitment to traditional moral values.

Many will remember President Reagan as the "Great Communicator". But the President himself said on numerous occasions that he wasn't a great communicator, he just communicated great things. Those were the traditional American values of this extraordinary leader. And, as the President said, "they came from the heart of a great nation."

These ideals were simple and distinctly American. President Reagan believed that freedom depended on limited government. Ronald Reagan profoundly said "government is not the solution to our problems, government is the problem."

Ronald Reagan was a deeply spiritual man who believed in the American people and had an unshakable Christian faith. It was his voice, his vision and his deeply held values that caused me to become a Republican. President Reagan said at the end of his Presidency "We left America more prosperous, more secure, and happier than it was eight years earlier."

As the grandson of German/English immigrants, the son of a Naval Pilot and School Teacher, a husband to my wonderful bride of nearly 22 years who is a Social Worker in the Evansville school system, and a proud father of three delightful daughters and a 2-42 small group leader and Church Elder for almost 20 years, I hold my values and the true importance of our heritage very close to my heart. A vote for me is a vote to give America back to the people.

But I can not do it alone. Today I'm asking you to show your support for our fight by doing everything you can to sign up your friends and build our grassroots base so we can truly change the way liberals are running Washington. Please know I am humbled by the support and encouragement so many of you have shown me already.

Today we are experiencing the fastest expansion of government and vast erosion of values as never witnessed in America before. We need real change that focuses on making decisions based on what is best for our towns and its citizens. Let's work together to bring back responsibility and accountability in our highest offices. Let's stand together and fight for real solutions to our nation's burgeoning problems, stand with me for our children's sake, and the future generations not yet born.

Ronald Reagan said that the key to overcoming "...does require, however, our best effort, and so a willingness to believe in ourselves and the freedom in our hearts for ourselves and

Committee to Elect John Lee Smith 2010

Advertisement Script

ANNOUNCER: I'm John Lee Smith. While we're all concerned with the rising cost of health care, what we need are jobs, jobs, and more jobs right here in Indiana. Like former President Ronald Reagan, I believe that government is not the solution to our problem, government is the problem. I stand for less government, lower taxes, and a strong commitment to traditional moral values. With your help and support on Tuesday, May 4th, I will stand strong for you and your family in Washington and make all of us proud to be an American. Paid for and approved by friends of John Lee Smith.

JOHN LEE SMITH: I'm John Lee Smith.
